Mommy HOME

Hi everyone! Hi mommy.
Hey, mommy's doing much better today. They had a short ride. They also changed bikes, so they didn't have to buy a windshield after all for mommy. She is riding a bike now that is bigger than the one she had before and it already has a windshield.

So mommy can ride, ride, ride now with no problems. She said that she felt so much better. She said the Harley power I sent her was just what she needed. My Aunt Sue said that her church in El Paso, Texas, sent some church power mommy's way, too.

But mommy's got a lot of power on the road. She's riding with a lot of really cool girls who were really sick. But now, they try and help a lot of mommies so they don't get sick. Or if they do get sick, these "Sistas" tell them, "It's cool. Put on a helmet, grab a throttle and hold on and just ride."

You can meet all of the girls on www.amazonheart.org/AHThunder/ridersusa07.htm.

There's Aunt Jenny, Aunt Aunt Maria, Aunt Linnea, Aunt Gail, Aunt Rhonda, Aunt Tia, Aunt Megan, Aunt Yvette, Aunt Virginia, Aunt Stacy and Mommy, but they call her Gigi.

I've got A LOT of aunts.

Oh, and Mommy told me today that she didn't take HAM with her. But she bought a new Doggie that she has with her. His name is "Jeremy." That's silly, because my really big, big brother's name is Jeremy, too.

Well, it's bed time. I love you mommy! Night Aunties!
